

Safetree Conference

13 & 14 March, 2019
Sudima Christchurch Airport Hotel

FISC and FICA are proud to partner to get our foresters home safe each night.

It is becoming more and more obvious that achieving this will require not just best practices, but also good management of the health and wellbeing of our people, the work environment and the external pressures to achieve productivity for their employers. The conference will bring together key speakers with solutions and tools to address these challenges that are faced every day. There will be an opportunity for delegates to check out products and equipment at the trade marquee area on both days. We will get together on the first night to network before the conference at a welcome dinner with dinner speaker before we head into the conference and guest speakers the next day.

Limited to 300 attendees

Keynote speaker: Sir John Kirwan, Westpac

Time/Date	Activity
14 March, Thursday	CONFERENCE DAY
8.30am	Registration
9.00am	Conference starts
9.15am	Keynote Speaker – Sir John Kirwan, Westpac  Topic: Supporting workmates with mental health issues Sir John will share inspiring insights into how he has worked through his own challenges with depression. He will also provide valuable lessons on how people can support workmates who are struggling with their own mental health issues personally or those of someone close to them.
10.00am	Jono Brent, CEO Connetics  Topic: Providing the environment for people to get engaged Jono will talk about approaches he has tried to improve engagement at Connetics. He is an engaging speaker, who will tell a very honest story about his experiences as a CEO genuinely committed to improving culture and engagement in his organisation.
10.40am	Morning tea in trade marquee
11.00am	Daniel Hummerdal, Chief Advisor Health &amp; Safety Innovation, WorkSafe  Topic: Let's talk about work Safety has traditionally been approached through a 'control and compliance' lens. This has produced some benefits, but also some problematic side-effects. Daniel will outline a framework and some tools for how organisations can engage around safety in a more informative way.
11.40am	Dr Hillary Bennett, Director, Leading Safety  Topic: Becoming resilient by learning from what goes right Safety and wellness are achieved by ensuring things go well at work everyday, not just by preventing them from going wrong. Dr Bennett will talk about two approaches to understanding everyday work – 'Growing our Safety Culture' and 'Everyday Learning Teams'.
12.30pm	Lunch in trade marquee – Sponsored by Competenz
1.15pm	WORKSHOP: Glenn Manahi, Smarter Better Faster  Topic: Keen for your team to work smarter better &amp; faster? Glenn will talk about how companies can transform their performance by finding ways to work smarter, better and faster. This includes initiatives that help businesses become safer and more productive, including developing leadership, engaging teams, eliminating waste, creating more efficient processes and sustaining improvement.
	WORKSHOP: Andy Smith, Learning Wave  Topic: Learning to look, observe and see... Leading useful tailgates A practical workshop to provide you with some tools on how to make tailgates more useful, engaging and effective. These include applying the learnings from 'yesterday' to 'today', and thinking about what to do 'tomorrow' to work safely and more effectively.
2.45pm	Afternoon tea in trade marquee
